Whether your facility currently has established, is implementing, or simply considering an AED program, American Heart Association AED resources are your keys to a successful program.

NEW - American Heart Association AED Implementation Guide

This comprehensive booklet guides you through each of the 4 steps to implementing a successful and efficient AED program. Implementation Guide includes information about these items and much more:

- Legal considerations for AED programs
- Selecting a Program Coordinator
- Obtaining Medical Oversight for an AED program
- How to notify local EMS about an AED program and how to effectively work with EMS
- Ensuring AED program quality
- Considerations for selecting, placing, and maintaining AED devices
- Selecting on-site responders and providing them with quality training in CPR and AED use
- Activating an internal Medical Emergency Response Plan (MERP)
- Documenting AED program procedures
- Promoting and providing important information about an AED program to decision-makers, employees, tenants, and others
When lives are at stake at your workplace, don’t settle for less than American Heart Association Heartsaver training.

American Heart Association AED Training Courses

Heartsaver AED
- Combines adult CPR training and AED instruction
- Includes training on how to relieve choking
- Teaches course participants how to recognize heart attack, stroke, and choking
- Unique course format of video-based instruction, group discussion, and hands-on practice facilitates learning
- Provides course participants with quality written materials and a Student Refresher CD with video clips of skills and other supplemental material
- Elective modules available

Heartsaver First Aid with CPR and AED
- Provides a complete health and safety training solution for first aid, adult CPR, and AED instruction
- Teaches basic first aid principles and their applications
- Provides CPR and AED training for cardiac emergencies
- Accompanying Telly Award-winning video features realistic, case-based scenarios
- Unique course format of video-based instruction, group discussion, and hands-on practice facilitates learning
- Provides course participants with quality written materials
- Elective module on environmental emergencies available

To learn more, log on to www.americanheart.org/cpr or call 877-AHA-4CPR.