Join Metro and ODOT for the fifth annual Oregon Drive Less Challenge!

To join this year's Oregon Drive Less Challenge, sign up for free at:

www.DriveLessConnect.com

The Challenge, led by the Oregon Department of Transportation, Metro and area partners, is a timely reason to discover travel options that can save money and time. The goal is for participants to log their trips into www.DriveLessConnect.com, Oregon's free trip tracking tool for all walking, biking, transit, rideshare or telework trips. Log in for a chance to win prizes. Assistance from Metro is available to help find carpools, vanpools, bike routes, and navigate bus schedules and routes. Additionally, Metro's Getting Around website features useful local resources and guides to aid in planning trips.

Here's a chance to tell ODOT what their spending priorities should be!

Now is your opportunity to weigh in on an upcoming cycle of the Statewide Transportation Improvement Program (STIP). This is the multi-billion dollar statewide project list that sets the table for what gets built and when. The Oregon Department of Transportation (ODOT) is currently putting together the 2021-2024 STIP, and they need to hear from you about how best to spend this money.

ODOT has provided an online survey, email newsletter sign-up form, comment submission form, and a video to help you get involved. To identify your priorities for enhancing Oregon's transportation system, complete the online survey at: www.surveymonkey.com/r/transportationfunding
