3. EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS: The Three Day, -30 -20 Challenge – How to get prepared for 3 Days in 30 minutes for about $20 and The Map Your Neighborhood Program (Stacy Metzger, MS, OD, Support Volunteer with the Forest Grove Fire & Rescue, and is the Coordinator for the Forest Grove Map Your Neighborhood Program)

The Three Day, -30 -20 Challenge will help you get prepared for a disaster quickly, cheaply and easily. The Map Your Neighborhood Program helps neighbors make a plan together so everyone knows what to do immediately after an earthquake, and helps neighbors get to know each other before a disaster strikes.

Refer to the attachments for additional information.

The Cascadia earthquake subduction zone runs southward from the Canadian border to the San Andreas fault in northern California.

There is a 33% chance or better of a large earthquake along the Cascadia Subduction Zone in the next 50 years.

Subduction zone earthquakes can be more damaging than slip fault earthquakes.

FEMA and Red Cross recommend to be prepared for two weeks in case of a disaster.

Once you prepare for 3 days, you can build on it and prepare for the 2 weeks. The important point is to start preparing! Once you're started with a basic 3-day kit, you can build on it.

A list of suggested items is included in the attached handouts.

- Water is the most important item in your survival kit.
- A NOAA radio is also a good addition – they can be purchased at places like Amazon or Bi-Mart.
- Make sure you keep prescription meds for your family and pets. Make sure you have pet food in your kit.
- A tent is a good idea.

Watch expiration dates on the items in your kit. If something is close to expiration, suggest using it yourself or donating it to a charity or food bank. For example, you may keep certain types of canned food in your kit that you don't eat regularly. Donating is an option.

The Map Your Neighborhood Program is an important part of preparedness– the first responders will likely be your neighbors in the first hour (referred to as the golden hour), and the first 60 minutes is critical! The goal is to get your entire neighborhood prepared for a disaster so you can help each other.
