Public Safety Update / Cornelius Police (with brief Q&A time)

6:45 pm

Fire Prevention and Safety Check-In

By Cornelius Fire Department Division Chief David Nemeyer

David will help ensure people are keeping current on how to protect themselves and their homes. He'll bring flyers, take your questions on fire and safety personal measures, and pass along the latest recommendations and tips. Topics he can cover include:

- Proper fire extinguisher use, storage and maintenance
- Operational smoke and CO₂ alarms
- Hands-only CPR, and recommendations on where to take first-aid training

7:15 pm

Transportation Futures Study

Presentation by a Long-Range Planner from the Washington County Department of Land Use & Transportation

What will Washington County be like in 50 years? What transportation is needed to accommodate growth in the county? What ideas and concepts affecting your area have come forward so far in this futures study, which looks at long-term transportation strategies, alternative scenarios, and investments? We'll get a presentation and take time to discuss your questions and gather feedback. Project website: www.wctransportationfutures.org

7:50 pm

Community Updates, Open Forum / CPO members, audience

Open time for sharing announcements, events and meetings, news, volunteer opportunities, networking, or questions.

8:00 pm / Adjourn

Farmer Listening Session March 2, 6-8 pm

Dairy Creek Community Food Web and Friends of Family Farmers invite local farmers to a listening session event at Forest Grove United Church of Christ, 2032 College Way. They want to hear from Oregon's family-scale, socially and environmentally responsible farmers about issues that matter to them. More info at: <http://bit.ly/1R1RZly>

Farm Succession Discussion March 4, 4-6:30 pm

Who will own Oregon's farmland in the future? As part of a collaboration with Oregon State University, researchers at Portland State University are working to better understand farmland purchasing trends and the implications for access. Join in a discussion with a panel of experts at PSU's Urban Center, 506 SW Mill St., Portland. More info at: <http://bit.ly/1R1RZly>

Tualatin SWCD Soil School April 16, 8 am - 3:30 pm

Small acreage farmers or home gardeners can register now for a day packed full of information on how to improve soil health. Learn more about soil structure, organic weed control, composting and more. At PCC Rock Creek Event Center, 17705 NW Springville Road. Register at <https://wmswcd.org/soil-school-2016-registration/> or call 503-648-3174 x121.

The mission of Citizen Participation Organizations in Washington County is to encourage and empower public involvement.
