Doing What They Do Best

On November 15, a number of western CPOs engaged community members in a discussion on homelessness, a growing issue that affects every community in the county.

Hosted by CPOs 10 and 15, with support from CPOs 12C and 13, the forum drew people in from across the county. A roomful of attendees shared in a discussion with panelists from Washington County Housing Services, Sheriff's Office, and Forest Grove Temporary Emergency Shelter about the current problems and the efforts to improve the homeless situation. Attendees gave overwhelming positive feedback, including Commissioner Bob Terry, who referred to the event as an illustration of a great CPO program.
